

UI Web Application Developer

Description

Quatro Consulting is seeking a UI Web Application Developer to design, develop, and implement user interfaces in Java based web applications. As UI Web Application Developer, you will provide solutions by collaborating with team members and interfacing with product managers. You will participate in the full lifecycle of software development from requirements through design, development, testing, documentation, and deployment. You will design the UI and UX then implement the UI in a Java web application. Creative minds that develop consistent and intuitive user experiences based on industry best practices will excel in this role. This position will offer customer facing activities if desired. This position will allow you to move into other technology domains based on your performance and interest as new projects are sourced. When you complete the UI on one project you will be tasked to design and implement a new UI for a different project.

Responsibilities

- Work with product management to ensure a consistent UX
- Analyze and recommend technical solutions to complex requirements
- Provide technical leadership and expertise for product deliverables
- Create wireframes and screen mocks based on functional specifications and requirements
- Implement UI with HTML/XHTML, AJAX, JQuery and JSP
- Apply and integrate technologies such as Java, J2EE, XML, Web Services, JavaScript, JQuery, AJAX, JSF, JSP and HTML/XHTML

Requirements

- 4+ years of JavaScript, HTML/XHTML, and CSS
- 1+ year object-oriented software design and development experience with Java
- 1+ year of professional development with JSF, JSP, AJAX, JQuery and MVC frameworks like Stripes or Struts
- Effective time management and communication skills
- Experience as a technical lead preferred
- BA/BS/MS in Computer Science/Information Systems or comparable experience

How to Apply

Email resume and availability with UI Web Application Developer in the subject to hr@quatroconsulting.com

Candidates located in Austin, TX preferred. No relocation allowance offered.

Type: Contract (6+ months)

Status: Full Time

Location: Austin, TX

Start Date: Immediate

Compensation: Competitive DOE